TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

If the Alb is the premier baptismal garment, then why are there so many other styles of vesture in evidence in our parishes? In some places, altar servers and other ministers might wear a garment, usually black, called a cassock. Over that is normally worn a white garment (a “surplice”), reminiscent of the alb but much shorter, often of starched linen and trimmed with lace. The cassock is not a liturgical garment, but a clerical robe. Its origins lie in the religious habit of monks. By the late Middle Ages, diocesan priests and clerics increasingly were encouraged to emulate religious priests. Very small boys were often apprenticed to monasteries, especially for music education, and would be invested with a cassock and sometimes even inducted into the ranks of clerics.

For centuries before the Reformation, it was required that all men entering higher education be clerics, and so the cassock and its variations became familiar academic garb. At the Reformation, many ministers retained a form of the cassock as ordinary dress, rejecting liturgical garments. In the seventeenth century, the English Civil War was in part provoked by the Archbishop of Canterbury’s insistence that ministers wear surplices. Although the Episcopal Church now retains “cassock and surplice” as the normal dress for lay men and women assisting at liturgy, Catholics are increasingly attentive to the deeply traditional treasure of the alb, our baptismal robe, when special liturgical vesture is needed. —Rev. James Field

A VOCATION VIEW

Manna in the desert—a miracle, but only a sign of the more amazing Bread from Heaven that Jesus would give us in His Body & Blood. This supreme gift continues through the ministry of priests. Be a part of this otherworldly ministry! Call Fr. Dave Baker at 716.847.5535 or visit buffalovocations.org.

What is the Church?

There is something more profound than a developed soul. There is something more influential than a Christian mind. There is something more compelling than a call. This great enterprise gathers these elements together and places them in a context of such cosmic significance that Jesus declared it would be “so expansive with energy that not even the gates of hell will be able to keep it out” (Matthew 16:18). He was referring to the church.

Jesus made this staggering claim because the church would be His ongoing incarnation on planet Earth. The church is His body, His presence, His life—the means for His ongoing ministry to the world. Not simply as the universal body of believers around the world, but also as concrete communities of faith gathered together in the name of Christ as mission outposts to the world. And you cannot fulfill God’s plan for your life, much less change the world, apart from taking your place in its mission and ministry, community and cause.

REFLECTIONS

The Word In Our Lives - Don't Look Back

It's bad enough that the Israelites were grumbling against their leaders. But they also complain to God that they were better off as slaves in Egypt. After all God did to bring them to freedom, now they want to go back to slavery. Before we judge them too harshly, we might ask ourselves if we ever act like that. For us, it might be looking back on our slavery to sin.

We would never sin if there wasn't something attractive about it. We might confess the sin and say we'll never do that again, but we often can't resist the memory of our past sins. As we hold on to the past, the temptations come back and draw us to repeat our offenses. Even though we know we are better off putting it behind us, we sometimes find it difficult to move on. Notice that the Israelites look back to their time in Egypt, while the people of Jesus' time look back to the manna in the desert, yet none of them ever had manna!

So how do we free ourselves from the past? Should we look to the future, instead? If we want to make the world, or just our community, a better place we can make plans. If those plans are ever going to work, we have to begin now. Jesus doesn't say "Remember how good that manna was." Or "Don't worry; your children will get it right." No, he keeps us focused on the present moment, telling us to believe in Him now, His Father gives us true bread today; Jesus is that bread of life.

Those words are just as true today. We may look fondly at Jesus' birth, his miracles, and his death on the cross, but if we don't let him be born again in us, if we don't trust him to do wonders today, and if we don't take up our crosses each day—we are missing the chance to experience Jesus in us and in the people we live and work with each day.

Inspiration Daily - A Hard Reset

It is so important to take breaks from the daily grind. While routines are important and foster stability, a fresh perspective and a change of atmosphere often stimulate growth. Let's consider the example of a child in a learning environment. At some point, they are bound to become disinterested, apathetic or bored. They may claim they don't care, that they don't like school or begin to pout and complain. But then they are asked to go take a break, get a drink and wash their face. In the meantime, a geography lesson is set up with a large map on the floor and they begin to play a game where they jump to each state as its name is called. The next thing you know, they are even volunteering to name the state's capital and they end up telling their parents they had a great day.

What made such a big difference? It's what some like to call a "hard reset". Just like you would turn a computer off and reboot it when it begins to have issues, sometimes we need to reset our current situation and start over. St. Paul speaks to this in today's second reading: "you should put away the old self of your former way of life, corrupted through deceitful desires, and be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and put on the new self, created in God's way in righteousness and holiness of truth." He is imploring the Ephesians to no longer live in futility but in the way of Christ, just as they were taught. He asks them to live in the truth of Jesus.

It appears as if the Ephesians needed a hard reset. They were having trouble living out their new way of life and needed a reminder of how to do so. Perhaps they needed to go take a walk, wash their face and take in St. Paul's words in silence. They were not promised this new life would be easy, and we aren't either. Yet they were assured that their minds and hearts could be renewed by the Holy Spirit. Jesus had shown them how to live in righteousness, truth and holiness, but this truly did imply putting on a "new self".

In the Gospel, Jesus gives his followers yet another tool for this radical change: "my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world...I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me will never hunger, and whoever believes in me will never thirst." He gives us His very self in order that we might put on a new self in Him.

So whether you are dealing with a child struggling in school, experiencing boredom at work, or lost in the monotony of your daily routine, maybe it's time for a hard reset. Plan a family outing, go on a retreat, or get some exercise in the fresh air and let God continue the good work in you that He has already begun.

Coming soon! Men's Faith Sharing

We are excited to launch a new men's group for all adult men in the CNIF family of parishes. We will meet Saturday mornings from 7:00 to 8:00am starting Saturday, September 7th in the St. James Church Hall.

We will be following the well-known, national Catholic program, That Man Is You. We will then discuss in small groups to help each of us become better men, husbands and fathers.

To register or for more information, text or call
Jon Harmon at 630.815.6586.

ALL HANDS ON DECK!! SACRED HEART FOOD MINISTRY...

is looking for someone to help temporarily with the Food Ministry while the new volunteer who has agreed to take it over has surgery in October. Remember, this is just temporary.

We need people who are willing to do the shopping for food and essentials, and distributing the items to those in need in our area through the Sacred Heart church hall.

If you are able to lend a helping hand, please contact Doris at the central office at 716.487.0125.

Give a loving embrace to the Sacred Heart of Jesus!

Secular Carmelite

Do you feel called to a deeper life of prayer? Are you interested in following Jesus more closely in the spirit of St. Teresa of Avila and St.

John of the Cross? The OCDS Community of St. Joseph's in Erie, PA invites you to consider life as a Secular Carmelite – a beautiful way of life open to lay Catholics, married or single!

As Secular Carmelites, we embrace spiritual disciplines for the good of the Church. These include praying the Liturgy of the Hours and practicing mental or contemplative prayer daily. We also gather as a community once a month to be strengthened, encouraged, and to receive ongoing formation in the ways of Carmel.

Reach out to MureRoberta@yahoo.com (President of Erie Community) or Gabriella Caruso, OCDS (St. James Parishioner) in person/via FB (@Gabriella Giuffre Caruso) to learn more! See: <https://www.ocdswashprov.org/>

Help Spread the Word!

Since the announcement of recommended closures of certain parishes by the Diocese, many people have been calling the office asking if Masses are still being celebrated in those churches.

The answer is “YES.” Yes, Masses are still being celebrated at their normal times. Yes, events are still happening at those parishes. Yes, Sacraments are still being celebrated. Until the Diocese of Buffalo makes the final announcement of which parishes will close, which will not be until September 1st, please pass on the word that it’s “business as usual.” If you ever have any questions about Masses being celebrated or other events happening at the parishes, just call the central office at 716.487.0125.

Jesus said to them, “They do not need to go away; you give them something to eat!” Mt 14:16

Jesus took Peter, James, and his brother John, and led them up a high mountain apart by themselves. And he was transfigured before them, and his clothes became dazzling white, such as no fuller on earth could bleach them.

Then Elijah appeared to them along with Moses, and they were conversing with Jesus. Then Peter said to Jesus in reply, “Rabbi, it is good that we are here! Let us make three tents: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.” He hardly knew what to say, they were so terrified.

Then a cloud came, casting a shadow over them; from the cloud came a voice, “This is my beloved Son. Listen to him.” Suddenly, looking around, they no longer saw anyone but Jesus alone with them.

As they were coming down from the mountain, he charged them not to relate what they had seen to anyone, except when the Son of Man had risen from the dead. So they kept the matter to themselves, questioning what rising from the dead meant.

—Mk. 9:2-9

OUR LADY OF THE SNOWS

August 5th

The feast day of Our Lady of the Snows is also the day of the dedication of the Basilica of Saint Mary Major in Rome, which was first built to honor Mary after a miraculous August snowfall on that spot. The famous icon of the Virgin Mary that can be seen there—Salus Populi Romani (the salvation of the Roman people)—is said to have been painted by Saint Luke. It is perhaps the best loved and most honored Marian icon in Rome.

Catholic Charities Behavioral Health offers outpatient mental health services to community members as young as 3 years of age and up. If you or a loved one is experiencing symptoms such as excessive worry or fear and/or inability to stop worrying, irritability or agitation, feeling depressed or hopeless, trouble concentrating on things, restlessness or inability to relax, it may be time to speak with a professional. Give Catholic Charities Behavioral Health a call at 1.877.448.4466. We’re here to help.

The RANDOLPH AREA VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL will be held August 5th-9th from 8:45 to 11:45 at the Presbyterian Church. Children entering grades K - 6th are invited to come to learn how God shines a light whenever we need help. The program this year is "Stellar." We are in need of Crew Leaders, Middle School and High Schoolers, to help the children navigate through the Stellar universe. Registration forms are available at both entrances of the church. There is no charge.
